

Marine Science Institute - The University of Texas at Austin

The Marine Science Institute is a year-round teaching & research campus of The University of Texas at Austin located on Mustang Island, a barrier island between the Gulf of Mexico and pristine coastal lagoons. Resident faculty instruct undergraduate students during the two summer terms. Summer room and board scholarships are available.

For more information: <http://www.utmsi.utexas.edu>